

The Game

This is one of at least four stories London wrote about boxing, the others being A Piece of Steak (1909), The Mexican (1911), and The Abysmal Brute (1911). This writing, and especially The Game helped to make boxing a respectable literary topic. When London was accused of inaccuracy in The Game he answered his critic with I have had these experiences and it was out of these experiences, plus a fairly intimate knowledge of prize-fighting in general, that I wrote The Game. The book is alleged to have persuaded Gene Tunney to retire from boxing after he read the book in the late 1920s.
